Falmouth Council meets

By Roger McKinney,
Reporter

Mayor Mark Hart, the Falmouth City Council and Pendleton County Community Development Director Bill Mitchell discussed development of Klee Farm Property. Director Mitchell said the land could be divided into commercial and residential sections. Mayor Hart said that subdivision development was important because it would allow citizens to relocate out of the flood plain. Everyone agreed to form a working group made up of council members, the mayor and the community development

Kentucky Thorough-Breasts take second place at dragon boat race in Canada

The Kentucky Thorough-Breasts recently competed against Canada's top six breast cancer survivor dragon boat racing teams

July 12-13 on Lake St. Claire near Tecumseh, Canada.

"We took first place in the first heat of the competition and that got everyone on all the teams fired up. There were just hundredths of seconds separating the times of all six A Division teams," founder and team manager Jim Thaxton reported in a voice that was hoarse and barely audible after the last heat. He lost his voice from shouting encouragement over the din of drums and yells of other teams' callers.

A breast cancer survivor dragon boat racing team consists of a drummer, 20 paddlers and a steersperson in a canoe like watercraft that's over 42' long head to tail. The race on Lake St. Claire was 500 meters long. The teams covered that distance from a dead stop in less than three minutes.

"We had some lane issues half way through the course in the second heat that slowed us down but we were still in medal range coming in third. Somehow the Canadian

Sheriff's Office debuts new vehicle

The Pendleton County Sheriff's Office has added a new vehicle to its fleet. In September 2013 the Sheriff's Office obtained a surplus military vehicle (Humvee) through the Department of Defense Reutilization Program at no cost to the Sheriff's Office. The vehicle was received in its original camo green paint.

Over the last ten months the late Evan Peoples, Bradford, and Sheriff Craig Peoples have put a tremendous amount of man hours into the project along with the employees of Midwest Automotive to get the vehicle into its final status. The vehicle has been totally sanded and repainted a gloss black with gold decal provided by Jake Peoples with Peoples Trophies and Awards.

The humvee will be a fully outfitted Sheriff's vehicle which will be used at festivals, fairs, parades, car shows, and school programs, to promote public service announcements, safety programs for kids as

Truck flips over on Main Street

Falmouth Police Officer Shannon Clem investigated a one-vehicle, injury accident at 6:21 p.m., Friday, July 18 on Ky. 22 (Main Street) near Reservoir Hill. According to police reports, Joseph Corrine, 18, Falmouth, operating a 1999 Dodge Dakota, with passenger, Bryan Marimon, 18, Butler, was traveling west on Main Street at approximately 45 mph. Corrine stated that an unknown car was coming east in his lane. He had to leave his lane and go into the other direction of travel to avoid a head-on collision with the car. Corrine got too close to the edge of the roadway and dropped off, striking a large culvert. He then overcorrected causing his vehicle to flip onto its top and come to rest in the middle of Main Street. Pendleton County EMS and Falmouth Fire Department assisted at the scene. Both men suffered cuts and bruises. Corrine was transported to Harrison Memorial Hospital for minor injuries. The truck experienced severe damage.

NKCAC receives contribution from the Walmart Foundation

Northern Kentucky Community Action Commission (NKCAC) received an $87,000 contribution to help fight hunger by providing food to families and children in need. The contribution - which was given to the non-profit organization through the Walmart Foundation's State Giving Program - has three main goals: to assure that children attending NKCAC's Head Start Program will have nutritious food to eat on the weekends, keep the shelves stocked at each of NKCAC's food pantries, and help families establish or expand backyard gardens through the donation of seeds and plants in the spring.

"Food, or more specifically, the lack of it, is such a fundamental issue," said Florence Tandy, NKCAC executive director. "Hungry children cannot learn and hungry adults cannot plan for the future. Through the generosity of the Walmart Foundation, we will be able to help the most vulnerable members of our community receive the nutrition they need to thrive.

The Power Pack program, offered to students who attend the Head Start program in Pendleton County, offers healthy food for children to take home on weekends, when they cannot have meals at the Head Start centers. Children who attend the Head Start program receive healthy, daily lunches and snacks.

NKCAC's food pantries, located in the Pendleton County Neighborhood Center on Park Street, offer direct food support to working families.

"Often, the families who come to us for support are having trouble meeting their financial obligations, such as utilities and rent, and are sacrificing food to help make ends meet," says Dawn Fogarty, NKCAC's Community Services manager. "We find that if we are able to help relieve their worry about their food bills, we can then help them solve their other concerns." Information about the neighborhood centers can be found at www.nkcac.org or by calling (859) 654-4054.

Because Northern Kentucky Community Action Commission believes strongly in helping families help themselves, the agency will use some funds from Walmart to purchase garden seeds and plants so that families with the space can establish gardens to supplement their family's nutrition during the summer. Access to fresh vegetables is lacking for many low-income families. By planting and maintaining gardens, families can harvest, not purchase, these important nutritional foods, which both stretch the food dollar and improve nutrition.

"At Walmart, our mission is to create opportunities so people can live better," David Gose, regional general manager for Walmart for Northern Kentucky said. "In addition to the thousands of community service hours our associates perform and the in-kind donations that are spread throughout the communities we serve, these State Giving grants allow us to help nonprofit organizations fulfill their mission and continue on their path of service."

The contribution to NKCAC was made possible through the Walmart Foundation's Kentucky State Giving Program (SGP). Through this program, the Walmart Foundation supports organizations that create opportunities so people can live better. The Walmart Foundation State Giving Program strives to award grants that have a long-lasting, positive impact on communities across the U.S.

Last year, the Kentucky State Giving Program awarded more than $750,000 to local organizations such as Operation Homefront, Senior Care Experts and Senior Services of Northern Kentucky. In Kentucky, a team of local associates determines needs within each state, reviews eligible grant applications and makes funding recommendations to the Walmart Foundation.

To be considered for support, prospective grantee organizations must submit applications through the Walmart Foundation State Giving Program's online grant application. Eligible applicants must have a current 501(c)(3) tax-exempt status in order to meet the program's minimum funding criteria. Additional information about the program's funding guidelines and application process are available online at <http://foundation.walmart.com/apply-for-grants/state-giving>.

In 2012, Walmart and the Walmart Foundation gave more than $1 billion in cash and in-kind contributions around the world. This includes $1 billion in cash and in-kind gifts in the United States and $82.2 million in cash and in-kind gifts in international markets. In addition, Walmart, Sam's Club and Logistics associates volunteered more than 2.2 million hours, generating $18 million to U.S. nonprofits.

Sheriffs' Boys & Girls Ranch marks 39th year of camp

The Kentucky Sheriffs' Boys & Girls Ranch summer camping program is open for their 39th consecutive year, serving boys and girls from throughout Kentucky.

The camp runs throughout June and July, serving both boys and girls, alternately throughout the camp season.

The Boys & Girls Ranch is a non-profit organization, serving Kentucky's youth through a summer camping program designed to build their self-esteem, while teaching them respect for themselves, others and law enforcement professionals.

The camp is free to the campers, thanks to the dedication and support of our Sheriffs, members and contributors. The cost of serving the children in now well over $300 per week per child. With continued support from our contributors, we will continue to reach these most deserving youth.

In addition to regular camp activities such as camp fires, arts & crafts, nature, sports, swimming, fishing, and many others, the campers also enjoy race cars presented by local citizens, a fire prevention program by the Marshall County Sheriff's Office, and the McCracken County Child Watch program," said Jerry Wagner, Executive Director. "It should be a week filled with fun and learning for the campers. We hope the campers create a lifetime of memories during their stay, as well as learn the values of respect and many other life skills."

Wagner added, "On behalf of the campers and staff, we send our heartfelt thanks to everyone who has lent their hand this year. Your outpouring of support is allowing us to continue our work and is greatly appreciated and has not gone unnoticed."

Pendleton County native selected by the Fulbright Commission to study in Scotland

Yvonne Johnson is one of three students at the University of Kentucky selected by the US-UK Fulbright Commission to participate in Fulbright Summer Institutes in the United Kingdom.

Yvonne Johnson, an English and computer science sophomore, has been awarded a place at the Fulbright-Scotland Summer Institute, a five-week cultural and academic program for U.S. students held at University of Dundee and the University of Strathclyde.

The US-UK Fulbright Commission is the only bilateral, transatlantic scholarship program, offering awards and summer programs for study or research in any field, at any accredited U.S. or U.K. university. The commission is part of the Fulbright program conceived by Senator J. William Fulbright in the aftermath of World War II to promote leadership, learning and empathy between nations through educational exchange. Award recipients and summer program participants will be the future leaders for tomorrow and support the "special relationship" between the U.S. and U.K.

The theme for the Fulbright-Scotland Summer Institute that Johnson will take part in is "Scotland: Identity, Culture and Innovation." The institute will provide American undergraduates with a unique perspective on the cultural and political forces that have shaped modern Scotland, with a strong emphasis on its pioneering role as a technological nation. As a participant in the program, Johnson will explore and learn about the heritage, history and culture of Scotland through visits to Scottish Parliament, museums, galleries and sites of historic interest, including castles, battlefields, stately homes and areas of scenic beauty.

Johnson, a native of Pendleton, Kentucky, graduated from South Oldham High School. Since elementary school, she has actively pursued creative writing and technology opportunities. Johnson also attended the Governor's School for the Arts.

A member of the Honors Program and writer for Shale, Johnson had to narrow down her vast interests to select her two majors at UK, English and computer science. "I chose areas of study that I most enjoyed. I have a wide range of interests, and I'd have about eight different majors if I could, but I narrowed it down to my top two. I've been creatively writing since first grade, and I've been teaching myself how to build websites and how to code since sixth grade. The two interests really went hand-in-hand because the reason I wanted to build a website in the first place was so that I would have somewhere to showcase my writing."

After finishing her undergraduate studies, Johnson plans to attend graduate school.

The US-UK Fulbright Commission selects participants through a rigorous application and interview process. In making these awards the commission looks not only for academic excellence but a focused application, a range of extracurricular and community activities, demonstrated ambassadorial skills, a desire to further the Fulbright Program and a plan to give back to the recipient's home country upon returning.

The Fulbright Summer Program covers all participant costs. In addition, summer participants receive a distinctive support and cultural education program including: visa processing, a comprehensive pre-departure orientation, enrichment opportunities in country, a re-entry session and opportunity to join alumni networks.

Student Council takes part in Relay For Life

Student Council participated in Pendleton County's annual Relay For Life on June 20. They were very successful this year with the participation and help of all Student Council members, advisors, and parents of the members.

After gathering multiple donations and raising money on s'mores and drinks, they became a Nickel Level team for the American Cancer Society Relay For Life. Becoming a Nickel Level team expresses that they raised between $1,750 and $2,500 in funds. This is a huge accomplishment to Student Council being the first time to get the honor of being a Nickel Level team.

The next events Student Council will be assisting with is the beginning of school festivities. First, they will be helping with Freshman Orientation and New Student Open House from 4-7 p.m. on August 5. Also they will be getting the building ready for the Pendleton County Schools Staff Opening Day. Finally, Council will assist all students on the first day of school, August 11, with any help that will be needed.

Student Council would just like to let everyone know that the Pendleton County High School Homecoming weekend will be September 5-6. On September 5 will be the Homecoming football game against Dayton at 7:30 p.m. at Veterans Field. The Homecoming Court will be presented at halftime and the winners will be crowned at that time as well.

Continuing the next day, September 6, will be the Homecoming Dance. The theme of the dance is the Wizard of Oz! Remember "There Is No Place Like Homecoming" help that will be needed.

Student Council is looking forward to all the events and is excited for a great 2014-2015 school year!

Pendleton Historical Society needs information on veterans

The Pendleton County Historical and Genealogical Society has an upcoming project and needs the help of local residents. They are planning to publish a book to honor Pendleton County veterans. In order for them to do this they need a picture of the veteran and a brief biography. The biography should include full name, parents' names, spouse, and children. If preferred, any living spouse or children would not be included. One should also include which branch of service, rank, where they served, and war if applicable. If the veteran is from a much earlier time or no picture is available, just the biography is good since they want to include them.

The Pendleton County

Historical Society knows these photos are precious to families and therefore will do a scan of the pictures if necessary. The Fryer House in Butler is open the first and third Tuesday of each month as well as the third Saturday of the month for regular meetings. Plans can be made to do scans on these dates. If you are unable to make any of these dates, contact: fryerhouse41006@gmail.com and someone will reply to set up a date for those who are interested. You can also send your veteran's picture and biography to this email address or mail it to: Pendleton County Historical and Genealogical Society, PO Box 130, Falmouth, KY 41040. Attention: Susan Taylor.

$10 GED testing available for a limited time in Kentucky

Kentucky Adult Education (KYAE) has announced that eligible adults may take each module of the GED® test at the reduced rate of $10, as a result of $20 vouchers being provided to eligible individuals.

With the use of these limited-time vouchers, the cost of a full GED® test will be only $40. The regular cost of the full battery of GED® testing modules is $120, so this represents an $80 savings to test takers.

"We are really excited for the opportunity for eligible adults to take each GED® test module for just $10," said JoEllen Mitchell, Director of Pendleton County Adult Education. "We encourage everyone to spread the word about this promotion. It will only last as long as vouchers are available from KYAE, so people need to come in as soon as possible."

The current version of the GED® test was launched by the GED Testing Service™ in January 2014. The test, which is computer-based, consists of four mod-

109 Board announces scholarships for adult students

The Pendleton County 109 Solid Waste Management Board is happy to announce the sixth year in offering $500 scholarships that will be awarded to a nontraditional adult student September 2014.

A nontraditional student is an adult that is currently attending college or plans to attend college during the fall/spring 2014 semester.

Although, the 109 Board continues to support high school scholarships, the 109 Board wants to support adults returning to college.

GED graduates are encouraged to apply. Previous recipients are not eligible to reapply. The criteria and applications are available through the local Adult Education Office at 654-3325 Ext. 2601. The deadline for submitting this scholarship is August 15, 2014.

Information needed about WWII veterans

The Falmouth Outlook is searching the area to find any Pendleton County veteran that served in World War II. These veterans are wanted for recognition articles that will be printed in The Falmouth Outlook.

World War II veterans are an important piece of our history and our present. It is our desire to honor those who have given so much to our country.

Here is the information needed for the article: name, age, place of residence, branch of military served in, year entered service, and where served.

Please contact The Falmouth Outlook by calling 859-654-3332 or you can drop the information off at the office at 210 Main Street.

Betty Mains Memorial Scholarship now available

The Betty Mains Memorial Scholarship is now available. This scholarship awards $200 per semester to a graduate of Pendleton County High School who is pursuing a degree at an accredited university or college and who will qualify as a college sophomore, junior, or senior during the next school year.

Any Pendleton County High School graduate meeting the above criteria may stop by Pendleton County High School between 8 a.m. - 3 p.m. to pick up an application or contact the high school guidance office at 654-3355 x 3.

Deadline for return of completed application is Friday, July 25. Recipient will be notified by Friday, August 8.

We know that passing the GED® test opens doors to the future by helping adults prepare for college and job training and to get better jobs," said Mitchell. "We want as many of our eligible residents to take advantage of this opportunity as possible."

Pendleton County Adult Education offers free classes to help adults earn their GED® diploma. The Pendleton County adult education center is located at 500 Chapel Street, Falmouth.

The program can be reached by calling 859-654-3325 Ext 2601, by e-mailing joellen.mitchell@pendleton.kyschools.us or visiting the Pendleton County Adult Learning Center Facebook page on the internet.

Rabbi Ben Ezra

By Owen Collins

Killing in my heart

There it was! Less than fifty yards from my office window! In broad daylight! Flicking its ears and flipping its tail! Munching on some of the prettiest tomato plants that I had ever grown! Plants approximately three feet tall with small, baseball-sized fruit soon ready to ripen to make bacon and tomato sandwiches, our favorites.

Now these are not ordinary tomatoes which can be bought from a grocery store. Barry Hisel who formerly worked in a grocery store said that the tomatoes which he handled were shipped in green. They gassed them overnight and turned them red for the customer the next day. Not a deep, robust red, but a pale shade of redness not eligible to grace a tomato sandwich at our household.

The tomatoes of which I was so proud and protective were purchased as plants from a local retailer near Falmouth. Mainly Celebrity and Rutgers varieties, these plants hold their leaves well into August and the fruit is slightly larger than a baseball, but uniform and firm, but not hard. And the flavor, ah the flavor: exquisite, heavenly, "fitten" for angels.

I enjoy gardening, going back to my Father who also was a great tiller of the soil. And, since moving to this fair county, I have had a garden every year. And, battled the deer! I have tried stretching a taut string with pie pans. I have used "Deer Off," with almost no success. I have used plastic mesh with some success, but it is expensive and troublesome to put in place and to retrieve after the growing season. Last year I used "Liquid Fence," (LF) and I thought that I had found an effective antidote to this overpopulation of deer.

But not this year. I have used two one gallon cans and bought a container of concentrate and doubled the dosage. The information on the container says that this LF will irritate the nostrils of deer and they will pass on by. I wonder if this deer that I pictured at the onset of this article has defective smelling or perhaps her genes are mutated so that the medicine does not work. I have also used a lot of plastic mesh and it seems to deter her until the beans or tomatoes begin to ripen. Then she has a feast, nearly every night.

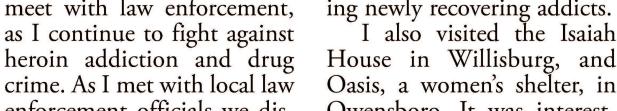

What ticked me on the occasion in question was her brazenness in eating breakfast in broad daylight so close to my domicile.

Our forefathers had a cure for such animal behavior; namely, a dog and a gun. I have a dog that is much as I am. Physically, she can't move around very well and her bark is almost gone, and she never seemed very hostile toward deer even when she was younger. So, that option is out.

I have a twenty gauge shotgun with pump action and I know how to use it. I thought about taking it off the wall that morning when I saw fat--- eating my tomatoes. But, there is one major problem with this approach; nearly any direction I point this gun leads to other dwellings or highways where humans travel. I could see the headline in The Falmouth Outlook, "Former superintendent of schools kills deer but wounds Keith Belcher and David Chaplin." Not the kind of label one wants to take to his grave!

SEN. KATIE STINE REVIEWS KENTUCKY CONGRESSIONAL WEEK

Katie Stine,
State Senator

This week, I visited Central and Western Kentucky for Interim Joint Committee meetings to tour drug addiction recovery centers, and to meet with law enforcement, as I continue to fight against heroin addiction and drug crime. As I met with local law enforcement officials we discussed the predicted spike in heroin trafficking and related crimes as the scourge of heroin expands throughout Kentucky.

My first meeting, on Education, was hosted by Lindsey Wilson College, where the president welcomed us with a tour of the school and spoke about the special role Lindsey Wilson plays in the community. We also heard from a representative of the Association of Independent Kentucky Colleges and Universities who discussed the benefits of Kentucky's private colleges. We are indeed fortunate to live in a state blessed with an abundance of educational options. During the meeting I emphasized the importance of higher education providing the tools that students need to fulfill their career dreams and obtain high paying jobs.

Health and Welfare met Wednesday at the Owensboro Regional Hospital. It was very telling that in his greeting, one of the physicians of the hospital stated that heroin abuse is one of their major concerns in the area. Topics discussed during the meeting included the shortage of primary care physicians in Kentucky. Concerns were raised that forced enrollment through Obamacare will increase waiting times to see physicians--many of whom are already overwhelmed with patients.

Outside of these meetings, I devoted time to visit law enforcement and recovery centers in the region. I first went to The Healing Place in Campbellsville, Ky. Programs here include a long-term residence, peer-mentorship, counseling, job placement, ment and life skills training. Patients have opportunities to work at the home after reaching certain levels and continue their recovery while helping newly recovering addicts.

I also visited the Isaiah House in Willisburg, and Oasis, a women's shelter, in Owensboro. It was interesting to learn about the NET Device that the Isaiah House is using. NET is a therapeutic addiction treatment program that is a non-medicinal way of helping addicts endure the first few days of severe detoxification. I look forward to learning more about this method and hope that it can be put to use at more recovery centers in the future.

As many of you know, heroin trafficking and abuse is a serious problem in Northern Kentucky and is quickly spreading to other areas of the Commonwealth. Visiting these centers and meeting the dedicated staff and peer mentors who are saving and changing lives, inspired me, and reminded me that there is hope. Also, the tours confirmed for me that treatment including a therapeutic approach based on a twelve step program, and using peer mentoring, is the best way to tackle heroin addiction in the long term.

While my Senate Bill 5 died in the House of Representative after passing the Senate, I hope that it will eventually gain passage in order to save lives through education, treatment and vigorous prosecution of drug dealers. It is tragic that the House failed to pass this life-saving legislation. Deaths from overdoses are on the rise. In 2012 about 19 percent of autopsied deaths showed heroin in the bloodstream. In 2013, the number jumped to 32 percent. I understand that since February, 60 people have died from heroin overdose in the Louisville area. This pattern is heading in the wrong direction at an exponential rate.

Everyone can be a part of the solution by raising community awareness of the danger of heroin and by reporting drug activity to the police. You can also contact your legislators and demand action on this epidemic and ask other people you know to do the same by calling 1-800-372-7181. Of course, if you have any issues or concerns, you can always call my office in Frankfort at 502-564-8100 or toll free at 1-800-372-7181.

Preparing your home and family for an emergency

You can't predict the future, but you can feel more confident in your ability to face unforeseen emergencies if you prepare your home and family ahead of time. Planning for all kinds of scenarios is crucial, say experts.

Experts say, "In the event of an emergency, a well-thought out emergency plan can eliminate stress, limit confusion and save a great deal of wasted time." "Different areas are prone to different risk factors. So look up your neighborhood's flood history and seismological data to understand your risks."

Luckily, there is a lot of overlap in the supplies and preparations you need to make for many disasters. To be better prepared for anything, the following actions are recommended:

- Create up-to-date contact information cards for each family member.

- Develop communication strategies to keep in touch, even if phones are out-of-service.

- Plan how you will assist or care for family who have mobility or medical issues, communication difficulties or special needs.

- Maintain, inspect and rotate emergency supplies, such as nonperishable food, water, first aid, lighting and communication equipment. Periodically pull out all of your emergency supplies.

- Take inventory, check expiration dates, use older items and replace them with new supplies. Make sure you end up with more items than you started with.

- Learn basic safety skills, such as first aid, CPR, and fire prevention.

- Get the family ready by conducting emergency drills. For example, you can perform a classic fire drill by evacuating your home at an unexpected time. Have everyone low-crawl out of the house and meet at a planned spot outside the home. Round out the exercise with stop, drop and roll each time you have a fire drill.

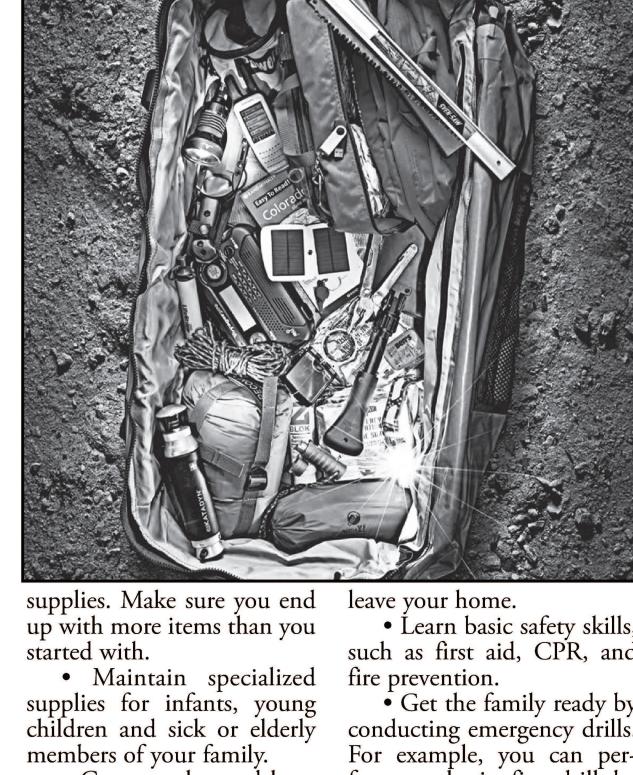

- Maintain specialized supplies for infants, young children and sick or elderly members of your family.

- Create a plan and keep supplies for the care of pets

- Have the tools and the knowledge to shut off your utilities.

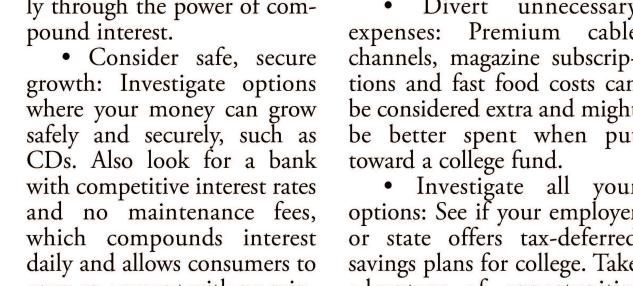

- Develop basic self-sufficiency skills in the event you have to seek shelter in a place without utilities. Create a supply kit that includes drinking water, no-cook foods like protein bars and peanut butter, first-aid supplies, flashlights, digital backups of important documents and cash.

- Create an evacuation plan, in case you have to leave your home.

Tips to save for college now and in the future

As thousands of high school graduates prepare for college, more than a few households are coping with "sticker shock" when it comes to higher education costs. And many students are leaving universities not only with a degree, but a mountain of debt.

However, decades of student loan payments don't have to be in store for you or your child. With smart, long-term planning, this financial fate can be avoided.

Experts say, "Anyone who anticipates paying for a college education at some point down the road should have a budget plan that includes a college savings fund."

Regardless how far in the future your first tuition payment lies, consider these steps toward establishing a financial cushion:

- Do your homework on college costs: While it's hard to predict future college costs, choose a school that might be an option and plan on an annual tuition increase of about five percent to get a ballpark idea. Don't be dissuaded by the amount you may have to save -- with time on your side, much is possible.

- Budget for savings goals: Prioritize future college expenses as a monthly budget line item. The sooner you start saving the better, because even small amounts of money invested early can grow quickly.

- Automate your savings: Use direct deposit or recurring fund transfers to put a portion of your income into college savings automatically. With every raise or bonus, increase this amount.

- Divert unnecessary expenses: Premium cable channels, magazine subscriptions and fast food costs can be considered extra and might be better spent when put toward a college fund.

- Investigate all your options: See if your employer or state offers tax-deferred savings plans for college. Take advantage of opportunities that are right for you and your family.

- Preserve other savings: College is expensive, but students have more sources of money for college than you will for retirement, so don't dip into your 401(k) or other retirement savings. Many accounts charge a penalty for access and you'll be harming your own possibility of a comfortable retirement.

- Don't wait until your child is graduating high school to worry about college expenses. The sooner you start planning, the better position you'll be in when this critical time arrives.

Cigarette smoking among Kentucky high school students drops significantly

Kentucky dropped to sixth place among surveyed states in 2013 for high school cigarette use, a significant improvement from the state's first place ranking in 2011, according to a recently released Centers for Disease Control (CDC) Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System (YRBSS) report.

Survey results show that 17.9 percent of Kentucky high school students report current cigarette smoking, down from 24.1 percent in 2011. Nationwide, the rate is 15.7 percent. The marked drop means Kentucky has met its Healthy Kentuckians 2020 goal of reducing youth smoking to 19 percent, and is beginning to creep toward its kyhealthnow goal of reducing Kentucky's smoking rate by 10 percent in the next five years.

In 1997, when the CDC first started tracking student smoking, the rate was 47 percent.

"When I announced our ambitious goals for kyhealthnow in February of this year, smoking was one of the most obvious areas we needed to address," Gov. Beshear said. "I am pleased to see teen smoking trending downward, but I remain committed to further reducing cigarette use among our youth."

The marked improvement in the number of Kentucky high school students who report they currently smoke cigarettes shows a move in the right direction toward a healthier future for our state," said Lieutenant Governor Jerry Abramson, who chairs the kyhealthnow initiative. "We will continue to work to advance the health of Kentuckians through the efforts captured and coordinated by kyhealthnow, which include a major focus on continuing to reduce tobacco use in the state, particularly among our young people."

Reducing smoking among youth is a key component of kyhealthnow, which includes priorities for comprehensive smoke-free policies and 100 percent tobacco-free schools. According to information collected by the Department for Public Health (DPH), 33 of Kentucky's 173 public school districts are currently 100 percent tobacco-free.

With nearly nine out of 10 smokers starting by age 18, preventing the initiation of smoking among youth is a key element in reducing the overall burden of tobacco use in Kentucky. Youth can develop cardiovascular disease, smaller lungs that don't function normally, wheezing that can lead to asthma, and eventually cellular damage that can lead to cancer, rheumatoid arthritis, type 2 diabetes and a host of other diseases.

"While we're pleased to see a reduction in youth smoking, it's important to note that we still have too many youth who smoke and others who are exposed to secondhand tobacco smoke," said Dr. Stephanie Mayfield, commissioner for DPH and vice chair of kyhealthnow. "The health consequences of smoking are seen throughout many of the diseases impacting Kentuckians. Smoking cessation could significantly reduce the rates of cancer, cardiovascular and respiratory diseases which are linked to tobacco use."

The YRBS is conducted in Kentucky every other year, on odd-numbered years. The 2013 YRBSS report is available at www.cdc.gov/yrbss.

Adults and youth as young as 15 can access the quit coaching services provided through 1-800-QuitNow (1-800-784-8669), or www.QuitNowKentucky.org. The service is free to all Kentuckians and available in multiple languages.

Gov. Beshear launched kyhealthnow in February as an aggressive and wide-ranging initiative to reduce incidents and deaths from Kentucky's dismal health rankings and habits. It builds on Kentucky's successful implementation of health care reform and uses multiple strategies over the next several years to improve the state's collective health.

W.E. Believe quarter auction raises over a thousand dollars for Bryce Croley

W.E. Believe raised $1,450 for Bryce Croley at the July 8 quarter auction held at the El Paso Mexican Restaurant. Thanks to the generosity of others, Bryce is at present attending Intense Physical Therapy Camp at the Conductive Learning Center in Covington. Conductive education is an intensive, multi-disciplinary approach to education, training and development for individuals with cerebral palsy, spina bifida and other motor challenges.

"He loves it," shares his mother, Casey. "He loves the people there."

Bryce first attended this camp at the age of two. The day camp, which lasts for four weeks, is an intense day camp. The Conductive Learning Center of Cincinnati located in Covington was established by Donna Speigel, owner of Snoopy Fox. When her grandson, Dayton, was born with cerebral palsy and in need of this same therapy, it wasn't available locally and the family was forced to travel to Michigan. The conductive learning center in Covington was the second of its kind in the nation when it began.

With special need children there are so many expenses that arise. "There are so many little things," says Casey. "Such as the travel package for Bryce's wheelchair. Without it he can't ride the bus and go on field trips. And yet the insurance won't approve it."

W.E. Believe are to be thanked for their generosity of time and monies in holding the monthly quarter auctions and the El Paso Restaurant for opening their doors for this worthy effort and to those who participate with more than just quarters. Many lives are touched by their generosity. Denise Bobb deserves a special thanks for contacting Kohls Cares and filling out the necessary papers for the $500 donation Bryce received.

The quarter auction was a success, but monies are still needed in order for Bryce to have the Eye Gaze Communication System he needs for school this fall. For anyone who would like to lend their support to Bryce in obtaining the tool he needs to go to school and to have a way of communicating donations would still be greatly appreciated. Send them to Casey Croley, 1265 Yelton Hill Road, Butler, KY 41006.

Check out the latest scams and bad business

Check out the latest scams and bad business from the Better Business Bureau.

1. BBB is receiving calls from local consumers saying they are getting calls from themselves! Scammers are using spoofing technology to impersonate businesses, police departments, and your own number! The technology is used to get victims to pick up the phone when they normally wouldn't answer an unfamiliar number. Victims report the scammers are trying to get their personal information.

2. The Microsoft Tech Support Scam is making its rounds again! Local consumers report scammers who claim to be with Microsoft say their computer has a virus, and they need to log in remotely to fix the problem. After logging in, the scammer has access to everything on the computer including personal information. They also have the ability to install malicious malware that can harm your computer.

3. If you receive an email from Amazon with an attached invoice and you didn't purchase anything, it could be a virus! Do not open the attachment! Go directly to your Amazon login for information on any orders you have placed!

4. Scammers are calling local residents, saying their utility services are about to be cut because their bill was not paid. The scammer asks for immediate payment, via wire services. If you receive a similar call, hang up and contact your utility company directly.

5. Scammers send an email, pretending to be members of the military, telling victims they have funds they need to move out of the country they are serving in. Don't be fooled! This is just a ruse to access of your personal information - and your money!

6. Don't give any of your tax information out to callers claiming to be from the US Treasury or Department of Legal Affairs. Scammers have been calling victims and impersonating government agencies in order to get your personal information. Hang up the phone!

7. Scammers are calling consumers, telling them they have won a $395,000 prize from Readers Digest. All the consumer must do is wire money for handling! The "winners" are being told they either "entered the contest in their local market, or pay their bills on time." This is a scam!

8. Beware of fake work-from-home jobs online. Organized crime gangs have been scamming victims out of thousands of dollars by "hiring" them to buy big-ticket items and getting reimbursed later. Unfortunately, the reimbursements are often stolen funds. Once the scam is realized, the victim is made to repay the stolen money and in some cases, face criminal charges.

9. Chances are you think your child is the cutest out there, and scammers know it! A new scam is targeting parents and grandparents.

The Cutest Baby Photo Contest Scam gives victims a chance to enter a photo contest for a fee. The scam continues when they announce you to be the winner and give you the option to pay a larger fee in order to get a copy of a "cutest baby" book. The only people the book goes to are the people who pay!

10. Renting a car? Know what's in the contract! BBB receives numerous complaints against the auto-renting industry every year because of billing and contract issues. Tips: Shop around, look for hidden charges, ask about unlimited mileage, and avoid additional charges by bringing your own car seat and GPS.

Law requires eye exam for children going to school

Optometrists provide tips for parents on identifying eye problems

Notebooks, pencils and clothes are at the top of most back-to-school lists, but a comprehensive eye exam should be included as well.

State law requires children ages 3 through 6 to have a vision exam if they are entering a public school or preschool program for the first time.

"Having children's eyes examined is one of the most important things parents can do to support their children's education and good health," said Dr. Elaine Desario, an optometrist in Louisa, Ky. "Research shows that vision problems are a major factor in limiting children's abilities to learn and succeed."

Up to 13 percent of children age 5 and younger have some type of vision condition. After age 5, that number increases to 25 percent.

"All parents should have their children's eyes examined because many problems may not be obvious to them or their children's teachers," Desario said. "Young children don't realize that the way they see the world may not be the way it should be."

"Early diagnosis and treatment can prevent loss of sight from amblyopia, which is commonly called lazy eye. Unfortunately, 50 percent of all cases of amblyopia are not diagnosed until after age 5, when it is difficult to correct."

Amblyopia is the leading cause of vision loss in people under age 40 -- more than injuries or any other disease. However, it is almost 100 percent treatable if detected early.

DeSario also said an eye examination is particularly important if your child exhibits any of these signs of possible eye problems:

- Loses his place while reading, holds the book closer than normal or uses his finger to maintain his place while reading.

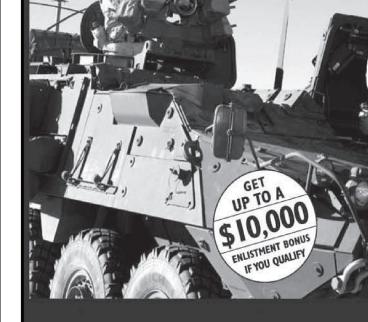

- Avoids close work.
- Tends to rub his eyes.
- Complains of frequent headaches.

- Turns or tilts his head, or squints, to use only one eye.
- Omits or confuses small words when reading aloud.

- Consistently performs below academic potential.

Many private insurance plans, Medicaid and KCHIP cover these exams. A comprehensive eye exam and glasses also are an essential benefit under the Affordable Care Act.

In addition, private programs are available to help families meet these expenses, such as the Kentucky Vision Project, which is sponsored by the Kentucky Optometric Association and has donated millions of dollars to the eye and systemic health. In addition to their formal training, doctors of optometry must undergo annual continuing education to stay current on the latest standards of care.

Private loans bridge gap between college costs

College-bound students may be able to tap into many sources of financial aid to help pay for their education, including federal and state grants, scholarships and Federal Stafford and PLUS Loans. In addition, local scholarships are often available, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

Those programs can ease the burden of paying for college. However, they may not be enough to cover all the costs. When that happens, many people consider private student loans, also called alternative loans.

The interest rate on private loans will largely depend on the borrower's credit rating. So, students and parents may have to pay higher interest rates than they would on federal student loans. In addition, many lenders require students to have a cosigner, and some require the college to certify that the student needs the loan.

Students and parents are encouraged to do research before committing to any loan. They should compare the loans offered by various lenders to find the best possible deal.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers

Kentucky's student financial aid programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). Its sister agency, the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHESLC), offers Kentucky Advantage Loans to help students and parents pay for college.

To find links to other useful education websites, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

KHESLC lowers interest rates on college loans

Kentucky students and parents who need help paying for college may now qualify for lower interest rates on Kentucky Advantage Education Loans from the Kentucky Higher Education Student Loan Corporation (KHESLC).

Interest rates are fixed and are as low as 4.95 percent. The exact rate will depend on creditworthiness and choice of payment plan.

The low-cost loans fill the gap between other financial aid a student receives and the total cost of education. Students should apply for all free aid, such as grants and scholarships, then for Federal Stafford Loans before applying for a private loan. To qualify for an Advantage Loan, the student must:

- Be a Kentucky resident enrolled in an approved school or a non-Kentucky resident enrolled in an approved Kentucky school;

- Be 18 by the date of application;

- Be a U.S. citizen or a non-citizen with a proof of residency card; and

- Have an acceptable credit history or an approved cosigner.

To qualify for a parent Advantage Loan, the borrower must:

- Be the parent or step-parent of an undergraduate or graduate student, as determined by the Free

Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA);

- Be a U.S. citizen or a non-citizen with a proof of residency card; and

- Have an acceptable credit history or an approved cosigner.

The loans are available to students attending eligible colleges and universities. Applications may be submitted online at www.kheslc.com or at www.advantageeducationloan.com. For more information, call 800-988-6333. SLC is a public, nonprofit corporation that provides education loans for students and parents. It was established by the Kentucky General Assembly in 1978.

Students should check KEES accounts for accuracy

Kentucky high school students and 2014 graduates should check their Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES) accounts for accuracy.

KEES allows students to earn money for college by getting good grades in high school and for qualifying scores on the ACT or SAT. Students eligible for free or reduced lunches may also earn awards for good scores on Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate exams. KEES is administered by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

To check awards and personal information, students need to use the MyKHEAA function on www.kheaa.com. If they do not already have a MyKHEAA account, they can set one up using the "Sign In" button on the KHEAA home page.

Students can verify their KEES GPA is correct by taking the letter grade for each course taken during the year and converting it to a 4.0 scale. On this scale, an A = 4.0, B = 3.0, C = 2.0, D = 1.0, and F = 0. AP and IB course grades receive one extra point, making an A = 5.0, B = 4.0, etc. The GPA is calculated by adding all the points together and dividing the total by the number of credits earned during the year. Pluses and minuses are not taken into account, so an A-minus and an A-plus are both worth 4.0 points.

In addition to KEES, students should check their personal information: name, date of birth, address and Social Security number. Students who need to have GPAs or other information corrected should contact their high school counselor.

If students have problems with their MyKHEAA account or cannot see their KEES information, they should call the KHEAA College Access Team at 800-928-8926.

To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Bro. Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Bro. Dan's message was taken from Revelations 1:8-18 titled, "Remember that Christ is Victorious."

BUTLER BAPTIST

Sunday school promotions were held this week. Four people had perfect attendance this past year; Patsey Jacob, Louise Pettit, Brad Veirs, and Susan Pferrmann. Our wonderful teachers were given a gift of appreciation for all of the work they do sharing the word of God every week.

II Peter 3:15-18 tells us to grow in grace and knowledge while we wait for Jesus. God is wanting everyone to come to a saving relationship with Jesus. God is patient so that all people can be saved. He does not want any person to spend eternity in hell. We are to witness to others so that more will come to know Jesus. We are to be aware so that we are not led astray by false teachers. We are to grow in grace and knowledge. We should know more today than we did yesterday about God.

Are you growing in that grace and knowledge? It's our own fault if we are not. We must put forth the effort to grow and share God's word.

Vacation Bible School is from 6-9 p.m., July 21-25. Come join us as we have fun learning about God.

BUTLER METHODIST

Vacation Bible School is over but the tunes we learned during our sessions are still running through our heads. The children were indeed blessed with singing, playing, learning, discovering, making, eating and dancing with our dear Aunt friend. It was a wonderful week, not only for those children who came but for all the workers too. Many thanks to Becca and Ressie Hall and Tammy and Ed Kirsch and their helpers who made all this possible. God has blessed you with talents and you were able to show those children just what you can do.

Hope all of you who got to come out to the outreach and witness on Wednesday night were excited about what went on. Good singing and witnessing and food brightly for Christ.

On the Radar: July 26 will be the "Cruz In" in Butler. Old cars during the day and then the ministers of Butler will have a movie night.

Please pray for the Alford family, those in the mobile home fire, Ethan Wright in Thailand, Cody and Clay doing some evangelizing in Chicago, Frank and we also thank God for all our praises. God bless you all.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

Our hearts were saddened Sunday morning to hear of the passing of our dear brother Richard Clos. He and his wife Nellie were the oldest members of the church in both age and longevity. They were instrumental in the early days of the church and helped with the building of the current facilities. Our prayers are with the family at this time of grief and sorrow.

Pastor Kevin preached on the invitation that the Lord has given to each believer to enter into the Holy of Holies and stand in the presence of God and offer up the worship and praise that He is worthy of. His text was taken from the fifth Psalm.

We are excited to have as our special guest speaker next Sunday morning, Rev. Joe Girdler from the district office in Crestwood, Ky.

We have started a new Bible study on Wednesday evenings; the book of Revelation is the current study.

Remember Jesus loves you!

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Falmouth Baptist Church would like to thank Sarah Turner and Nathan Wright for sharing "Amazing Grace, My Chains are Gone" with us for special music. It's always a blessing to see young people using their gifts and talents to glorify God.

How have you impacted the lives of others? How will you impact the lives of others this week? Matthew 7:12, "So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets." The Golden Rule, as Jesus formulated it, is the foundation of active goodness and mercy, the kind of love God shows to us every day. Think of a good and merciful action you can take today and do it!

At the close of worship we celebrated with our own Haven Wolfe, Miss Pre Teen United States. Here is another example of one of our young people shining brightly for Christ.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Bro. Nathan's message

was from Exodus 3:1-6 titled, "A Cedarmore Memory."

God loves you and wants to have an experience with you. Open your heart to Him, don't just come to church for a social group. Pray for Israel as a church. Love God with all your heart and everything else will work out. Be still and know that I am God. Forgive and you shall be forgiven. Remember when you come into God's house its holy ground you are on, treat it with respect.

Youth groups: Kindergarten through fifth grade, Monday. Sixth through twelfth grade, Thursday. 6 p.m.

Pray for the sick and those who have lost loved ones. Thank God for everything without Him you are nothing.

FALMOUTH WESLEYAN

Pastor Nick reminded us that we all have a ministry. Regardless of the size of our ministry, it is of God and will produce fruit. In Mark chapter 5:1-20 and chapter 6:53-56 we understand several aspects of ministry which will encourage us to not give up.

Our ministry may go unappreciated as when Jesus healed the man of demon possession and the people asked Him to leave, because they cared more about their pigs. Also, like Jesus we must not defend our actions, but let our works speak for themselves. The next time Jesus returned to these people who pushed Him away, they desired Him to help and heal them. This was because the man He previously healed shared what Jesus had done.

Our second Sunday evening Hymn-Sing was wonderfully joyful!

Join us Sunday evenings at 6 p.m.

We will be having a one day VBS on Friday, August 1.

FIRST BAPTIST

Greetings! Mike Whaley blessed us with special music this beautiful Sunday morning. Bro. Harry's message was taken from Acts. We need discipline to be spiritual. We need to be spiritually ready with a right heart to take Christ's words to others. How many times have we turned Jesus away? He patiently waits for our return to Him. We need to be spirit-led by the Holy Spirit!

Our shut-in of the month is Gary Holmes. His address is, 584 Highway 159 North, Falmouth, KY 41040. Send a card to brighten his day.

We are currently collecting eye glasses for the Lyons Club. We are also collecting

"The Lord abides forever; He has established His throne for judgement."

foot powder and wet wipes for "Hugs for Soldiers."

Pray for everyone needing prayer for love, peace and healing.

"Faith is being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we do not see!"

GLENWOOD BAPTIST

Vacation Bible School, "Running the Race," Hebrews 12:1, 7 p.m., nightly, August 4-7, 2014 at Glenwood Baptist Church, 82 Stewart Lane, Falmouth, KY 41040.

For more information call: Pastor Terry Parnell, 859-620-6033 or Youth Minister Clifford Wade, 859-322-2554. Everyone welcome!

HARVEST COMMUNITY

"Priority of Encouragement" was the title of Bro. Donnie's sermon based on Acts 4, 5 and 9. As you near the end of a long race, your legs ache, your throat burns and your whole body cries out for you to stop. This is when friends and family are most valuable.

A word of encouragement offered at the right moment can be the difference between finishing well and collapsing along the way. Be sensitive to other's needs for encouragement, offer supportive words or actions.

Our youth will be leaving on their mission trip on the 27 and returning on the 31. Prayers for safe travel and that each one receives a blessing from witnessing to others.

Prayer concerns: Bro. Donnie Spencer (broken ankle), Elstun Bobb (Gateway Rehab Hospital), Adam Daugherty, Bro. Joe Hall, Pat Ray, Cameron Middendorf and Phil and Janice Wiggins.

God's Blessings for a wonderful week!

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

Dr. Michael Schafer and River Valley Sound led our service this Sunday. We were blessed with great music. Dr. Schafer's message "Let Go and Have Faith" was taken from several books of the Bible. We must let go of our fears and trust God. Steve Wood was our moderator. Kathie used an egg for Children's Moment. The egg represents God. When broken, it reveals the yolk as the Son, the white as the Holy Spirit.

Elders Estile and Gloria Vaughn served at the table with deacons Debbie Fultz, Caitlin Ramsey, April and Ken LeCrone serving the Lord's Supper.

Today was our monthly Fellowship Dinner followed by our membership meeting.

Our Wednesday Bible study will continue August

6. If you don't have a church home, cross over the bridge and join us Sundays at 10 a.m., for Sunday school and 11 a.m., church.

Life isn't always fair but it is still good!

MT. MORIAH

We had a great message from Brother Breeden this week. "True Success is a multiplier." He taught from Matthew 13, beginning at verse 18, regarding the "sower." Bro. Breeden challenged us to look at the condition of our heart. Is your heart softened to receive the word, or have you allowed your heart to be hardened, making it hard for the word to penetrate and grow in you? Allow the word to continue to soften your heart.

There are many people on our prayer list which continues to include FIREhouse Ministries, all those that are affected by addiction, Julie Utz, the family of Kyle Wyatt, Natalie Wolfe, Elstun Bobb, the family of Richard Clos, Barbara Singer, Gary Holmes, Chuck Tackett (Chuck is home doing much better), Elly Mae has had a few ups and downs and is still doing chemo, but has been enjoying her summer.

NEW HOPE

Recent studies show that anywhere between 75-90 percent of young people are leaving the church. There are many reasons that are causing this problem. The church needs to take its ministry to children, including Sunday school, VBS and church camp, seriously. We need to give our students reasons to believe the Bible, service opportunities and serious lessons to strengthen their faith. Parents also play an important role. They are the ones who teach children how to live their faith through acts of love, reading the scriptures, praying at home, teaching their children God's word and church attendance. Children's attitude about their faith is often developed from their parents. Both the church and families need to take this responsibility seriously. If you are looking for a church to help your children grow in the faith, New Hope would like to invite you to join us. For more information, visit www.nhccfalmouth.com.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m., and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study and the Cross-Fire Crew meetings are on Wednesdays at 6 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: July 23-27 the Cross-Fire Crew will be having their summer camp.

Isaiah-54:13, "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children."

Please remember in prayer Janet Bishop, Tina Cochran, Jan Vader, Janet Bishop, Ruby Biery, Larry Johnson, Nora Harragett, Tyler, Tonya Pennington, Robin Nelson and Gary and Alice Holmes. Also remember to pray for our country and its leaders.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Happy 50th Anniversary to Bobby and Elma Straub.

Bro. Rick's message was from Exodus 20:3. You shall have no other gods before Me.

God led the people of Israel out of Egypt from their slavery and guided them through the desert. God will not share His loyalties with any one. Idols and images made by man's design should not be worshiped in any way. Worship only me. I am the only God.

We can't worship the God of the Bible if we don't know the God of the Bible.

Church News Policy

We appreciate all local churches who wish to publish their news in The Falmouth Outlook. However, it is necessary to limit the number of words per church news article submission in order to seem fair to all organizations.

Church news articles should be no longer than 150 words in total length. DEADLINE for church news is Noon on Wednesdays. Articles that exceed the word limit will be edited to contain 150 words or less; and articles received after the deadline will be held for the following week's issue.

Do you observe the Sabbath as a holy day? Or do you let other things or people take you away from this precious time you should share with your one and only God.

Sunday evening Bible study will be from various books of the Bible on Christian belief.

PINE GROVE

It was a pleasant and joyful day at Pine Grove as several of our pews were filled with adults and youth from the Lebanon Pennsylvania United Methodist Church. Their mission was to camp out at Flo McDonald's and help her with interior painting and other chores.

Carol chose her text from the book of Daniel 1:1-16. This related to how God protected Daniel and his men as they chose to eat vegetables and drink water rather than rich food and wine as the king ordered. As a result, God gave them wisdom and understanding far beyond the king's men. After seeing them, the king chose them to stay in his service.

Again for the third consecutive Sunday, we had a potluck meal. All enjoyed as this was our fourth potluck meal in three weeks.

Our Dream Kids will meet from 11 a.m., to 1 p.m., July 30. The goal of this is to welcome the youth of the community for a monthly day of Bible school.

The entire congregation is invited to attend the U.M.W.'s annual outing at 5:30 p.m., July 16 at El Paso's.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

It seems lately that there have been so many deaths and tragedies. The message, "A Call for Comfort," reminded us that God is a God of Comfort.

Revival is July 27-30 with L.D. Campbell, evangelist. Special music each evening at 6:30 p.m. Service begins at 7 p.m.

From 5-9 p.m., August 8 at Howard's Place in Falmouth will be a benefit for Gary and Alice Holmes. There will be music, a silent auction, games, and lots of fun and fellowship. They have touched so many lives and it's our turn to return the love.

Prayer concerns include

Pam Bruin, Zelma King, Henry Bertram, Pat Ray, Gary and Alice Holmes, Bev Bass, Robbie Nieses, Lisa Green, Ernest Turner, Larry Clemons, Charles Ernest Wright, Barbara Singer, Janis Wiggins, Rick Morgan, shut-ins, armed forces, cancer issues, and our leaders.

On July 13, 2014, Marvin Sullivan, worship leader, led the congregation in the morning worship service with the opening hymn, "We Have Come Into His House." Bro. Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "A Call to Commitment" from Romans 12:1-8. There is a clear call to commitment for all Christians: a commitment to personal growth, a commitment to the local body (which is the church), and commitment to ministry.

The memory verse for the week comes from Hebrews 10:25, "Let us not give up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another, and all the more as you see the Day approaching."

Come and worship with us this Sunday: 9 a.m., Sunday school and 10 a.m., worship service. Have a great day!

TURNER RIDGE

We are in the middle of VBS and so far it has been an amazing week! There has been Bible study, missions, fun and fellowship. We pray that seeds are planted and God's garden will grow!

Sunday morning we had missionaries that spoke and gave a report of their work and the doors God has opened for them to be able to share the gospel. Please remember to pray for all missionaries and the work they are doing in the world, not all places are they able to speak openly about God's love, so pray for their safety in the work they do, and pray for their families that they stay safe.

Join us on Sunday for Sunday school at 10 a.m., and worship at 11 a.m.

New ways to fire up the grill

Grilling is one of many people's favorite parts of summer, but it doesn't always have to involve hamburgers, hot dogs and barbecue. There are plenty of creative ways to grill that can be healthier for you too.

We all know, to be healthier, we should choose healthier foods. When grilling, you can think beyond the staples by preparing more nutrient-dense foods on the grill. You can successfully grill a variety of fruits. Peaches and pineapples both work exceptionally well on the grill as they can be used with meat as a main dish or with some cinnamon and low-fat whipped topping as a dessert.

Numerous vegetables can be grilled including zucchini, squash, eggplant, tomatoes, onions and peppers. Some of these you can place right on the grill, but for others, you might want to purchase a grilling basket. These are relatively inexpensive and usually available at any large grocery or hardware store.

While grilling fruits and veggies may sound simple enough, remember that you can make any food healthy or unhealthy by the way you prepare it. Good examples of this are fried chicken compared to baked chicken and a raw apple versus an apple pie.

Hamburgers, chicken and steak are great grilling options, but so are fish and pork chops. If you're worried about your family turning up their noses at fish that is not breaded, try grilling fish they may be already used to, like catfish or cod. They may end up liking it more than the fried version.

Many of you are interested in getting the most from your food dollars, and you can grill on budget. Look for potential grilling items on sale at the grocery store. When you find a good deal, buy multiples.

Chicken and less expensive cuts of beef that can be used over several meals in salads, fajitas and stir fry dishes are great grilling options.

When you fire up the grill, you can use the surplus to make the most of your meal.

When you fire up the grill, you can use the surplus to prepare all your meals for the week at once and save yourself time during the workweek.

Sports, physical activity, a new school year and your child

The beginning of a new school year is just around the corner. The new start provides an opportunity for your child to participate in all kinds of extracurricular activities, some of which include sports.

Sports are a great way for your child to get active, gain confidence, make friends and learn life skills like responsibility and teamwork. If your child has never played sports or is transitioning to a new school, check the school's website for the types of sports they offer and whether or not your child has to try out. This is something you will want to do fairly quickly as many fall sports, like soccer, golf and football, schedule their tryouts in late summer.

Knowing your child's personality and their abilities can help you and them determine what sport they should try. Is your child a team player? Are they strong? Do they run fast?

So your kid has no interest in sports? No big deal. One of your goals as a parent is to raise a healthy child and instill them with healthy habits, which include physical activity along with diet and emotional support. While sports are a great way to increase physical activity, it's not the only option. Your child can be active in many different ways including:

- Playing on a playground
- Running/walking
- Dancing to music
- Biking
- Jumping rope
- Swimming
- Sledding
- Hula hoop
- Yoga

You can do many of these activities with your child. Not only will your participation encourage them, but it will provide an opportunity to form stronger bonds.

4-H offers day camps, afterschool programs and school enrichment activities that focus on physical activity. Each February is also 4-H Health Month, an opportunity for all 4-H clubs to discuss health-related topics and engage in physical activity. From year-round calving to a controlled breeding season calving cows.

6. Sixty days after removing the bulls from the herd (or at a convenient time near this date), pregnancy check all cows and cull all non-pregnant, dry, breeding-age females that have been running with the bull and all non-pregnant cows with calves 5 months of age or older. Your fall-calving cows have likely either calved or are very close to calving.

7. You may want to consider starting the breeding season of your replacement heifers 20 to 30 days ahead of the final breeding date for your herd. Most extended calving seasons are the result of failure of young cows to rebreed in a timely fashion.

A system for converting from year-round to a 75-day controlled calving season over a period of two years presents less loss and fewer problems than to trying to convert in one year. Here are some suggestions for getting on a controlled breeding system:

1. Determine the ideal time of year and the length of your new calving season. For example, decide you want your cows to calve from Feb. 15 to April 30 (74 days).

2. Determine the reproductive status of each cow in your herd. First, go to your record book to determine the last date each cow calved. If you don't keep records, try to match the cows and calves up and estimate their age.

3. Based on the reproductive status of your herd, determine if you would like one or two controlled calving seasons.

4. Build a good strong bull pen or well-fenced bull pasture. You may need an electric fence in addition to the regular fence.

5. Remove your bulls from the herd. Select the removal date to coincide with an approximate 120-day season for your spring-

6. The second year, follow the same system as outlined above except remove the bull on the week of July 20. If you have fall and spring-calving cows, then put the bull in for the fall cows around Nov. 20 and remove him around Jan. 20.

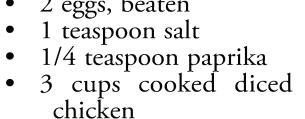

For more information on calving management and other beef topics, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

A reader in Huber Heights, Ohio asked for a chicken loaf recipe.

CHICKEN LOAF WITH PEAS

Ingredients:

- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 cups milk
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 3 cups cooked diced chicken
- 1/2 cup cooked peas

Directions:

Mix ingredients in the order given. Pour into a greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Let stand 10 minutes before turning out of pan. May be served hot or cold.

A reader in Mt. Sterling, Ohio asked about tomato fritters.

Tomato Fritters

Ingredients:

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1/4 tsp. dried basil OR
- 2 tbsp. fresh basil, minced
- 1 tbsp. parsley, minced
- 1 egg
- Vegetable oil for frying
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 1 (28 oz.) can tomatoes, drained
- 1 tbsp. onions, minced
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Directions:

In a large bowl, combine flour, baking powder, sugar, basil and salt. Cut tomatoes into half inch pieces and drain further on a paper towel. Add them to the flour mixture along with onion, parsley and Worcestershire sauce, but do not mix in. In small bowl, beat egg and add it to the flour-tomato mixture. Blend lightly with a fork. Heat oil (about 1/4 inch) in fry pan. Drop the batter by tablespoons into hot oil. Fry until golden brown on both sides. Keep fritters warm in oven until serving. Serves 4 - 6.

A reader in Floral City,

Florida requested a homemade chocolate ice cream recipe!

Mocha Ice Cream

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold coffee
- 1 small can evaporated milk
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1/2 cup nuts or shredded coconut

Directions:

Dissolve gelatin in cold coffee. Let stand five minutes and then melt over hot water until clear. Combine evaporated milk, brown sugar, vanilla and milk. Add dissolved gelatin and stir until thoroughly mixed.

Add whipped cream and pour into mold and allow to set in refrigerator. Garnish with nuts, coconut or maraschino cherries. Makes six to eight servings.

A reader in Hampshire, West Virginia asked for a "bacon dressing" recipe.

Hot Bacon Dressing

Ingredients:

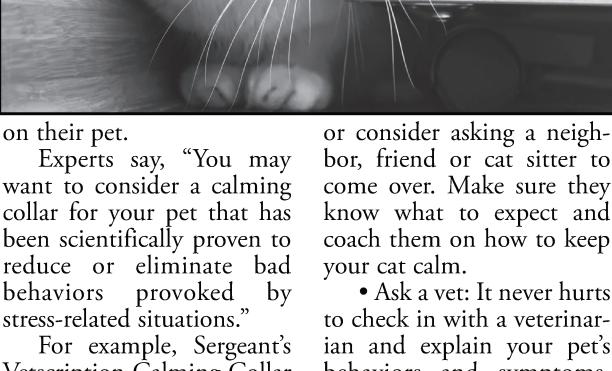

- 1 pound bacon cooked and crumbled
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 eggs (depending on size)

- 1 cup white vinegar
- 4 cups

Directions:

Preheat large skillet, lightly greased to med/high. Mix all ingredients, except for bacon, in a mixing bowl. Pour ingredients from mixing bowl into skillet and heat just to boiling. Add crumbled bacon. Add flour or cornstarch to thicken to about the consistency of gravy, and it's done. Traditionally, this was served over lettuce, endive, or dandelions.

A summer guide to keeping your cat calm on their pet.

Experts say, "You may want to consider a calming collar for your pet that has been scientifically proven to reduce or eliminate bad behaviors provoked by stress-related situations."

For example, Sergeant's Vetscription Calming Collar for Cats, available at mass retailers nationwide, mimics the pheromone that the mother produces to calm and reassure her kittens.

Pheromones are chemical substances used for communication between members of a species.

Good for all ages and breeds, the pheromone calming collar provides constant exposure calming pheromones to help pets feel safe and secure.

• Be there: You can't be home all the time, but if you know that a fireworks display will be taking place in your community or there's a stormy forecast, don't leave your pet home alone. Stay in or consider asking a neighbor, friend or cat sitter to come over. Make sure they know what to expect and coach them on how to keep your cat calm.

• Ask a vet: It never hurts to check in with a veterinarian and explain your pet's behaviors and symptoms.

Your vet can offer tips and let you know whether the behaviors are normal.

Summertime is known for fun, sun and relaxation. But for pet owners and their furry friends, this is not always the case. Take steps to help your cat feel safe and secure in the face of seasonal stresses.

Quick and tasty lunch ideas to take to work lingering in a bistro for a quality Italian lunch. Single-serve, portable pasta meals can be ready in one minute. For example, Bariella Italian Entrées are shelf stable and easy to eat on the job. Since the pasta and sauce are stored separately, the taste and texture of the ingredients are maintained until you're ready to eat.

At 350 calories or less, they contain 10-13 grams of protein and six and 11 grams of fiber per meal. They come in a variety of options for meat lovers or vegetarians, such as Vegetable Marinara Whole Grain Fusilli and Meat Sauce Gemelli.

• Nutrition: Some meals can offer a quick burst of energy only to cause you to crash soon after.

To truly take care of yourself throughout the day and get through that afternoon slump, make sure your meals are packed with protein and fiber to keep things to keep in mind.

• What's possible? When planning your meals, consider the amenities of your work environment. Do you have access to a refrigerator? If not, think shelf stability.

• Heat it up: Tired of cold sandwiches? You don't need to spend all afternoon help you feel full. Look for a wholesome way to stay fueled.

• Be balanced: It's important to eat well-balanced meals as much as possible. Eating pasta or a sandwich at lunch? Try incorporating vegetables and fruit on the side to add valuable vitamins and nutrients. All you need is a bag of baby carrots or celery sticks and you're set.

No matter what you choose, you needn't resign yourself to forgoing meals or getting bored. If you're juggling work, parenting duties and chores, challenge yourself to find ways to prepare tasty, nourishing lunches in just a minute or two, so you don't go hungry or renege on important responsibilities.

• Rely on science: More than two million cat owners have used a calming product

• Stay calm: Even if your cat is flipping out, remain composed. Doing so will help send the message that there's nothing to fear. Also, exhibiting anger could contribute to your pet's stress and make the problem worse.

• Rely on science: More than two million cat owners have used a calming product

Extraordinary Doctors

St. Elizabeth Physicians and the St. Elizabeth Heart & Vascular Institute are bringing highly specialized care for patients with a-fib and other arrhythmias to Grant County.

Our electrophysiologists specialize in minimally invasive procedures that treat atrial fibrillation and other heart rhythm disorders, especially in patients for whom medication is not managing symptoms. These doctors also offer consultations, follow-up care, and device checks for pacemakers and internal cardiac defibrillators (ICDs).

New patients are welcome. Call 859.331.3353 to schedule an appointment with one of our specialists today.
